Description of the project:

Project Leader: Dr Alex Seguino DVM DipIecVPH MRCVS, Senior Lecturer in Veterinary Public Health (VPH) at the Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies (RDSVS), The University of Edinburgh (alex.seguino@ed.ac.uk).

Project Title: Evaluation of a harmonised European Catalogue for teaching Veterinary Public Health (Food Hygiene) to veterinary students.

This project has received RDSVS Human (research) Ethical Review Committee (HERC) approval (HERC ref. 182.18).

Your involvement and aims of this project:

What we are asking you to do:

Participants to this project will be asked to indicate if the topics in the Catalogue are relevant to modern food safety and VPH, but also to suggest any topic that is missing. The questionnaire will also collect anonymised demographical and professional data from the respondents that will be used to interpret the results. The analysis of the results will be published on a peer-reviewed educational journal and will be used to inform a harmonised European Catalogue that could be used as a reference across veterinary institutions and facilitate free movements of veterinarians working in food safety across Europe.

Please remember "Your participation is voluntary". You may choose not to participate and you may withdraw at any time. If you decide not to participate or to withdraw from the study your responses will not be used and permanently deleted from our database.

CONSENT STATEMENT:

I understand the purpose of this study, and that I can ask questions about it at any time by contacting Dr Alex Seguino (alex.seguino@ed.ac.uk). I also understand that:

By answering the questionnaire, I agree to take part to the "European Food Hygiene Catalogue" research project.

I am free to refuse to participate to this project and may withdraw my participation or the data I have contributed at any time by contacting Dr Alex Seguino (alex.seguino@ed.ac.uk), the project leader.

My identity will not be linked to any data collected, stored, or reported by the evaluation team.

The survey will be no more than two A4 pages, or online equivalent, and designed to collect factual and non-sensitive attitudinal information.

Many Thanks for your help.
